HISTORIC PRESERVATION WORKSHOP
GREENFIELD—We are sponsoring a workshop on Historic Preservation Tax Credits and Grants on Thursday, November 13th, from 1PM to 5PM at the Creative Arts and Event Center, 2 W. Main, Greenfield IN 46140

Since 1976 federal and state governments have encouraged re-use of historic structures through programs of tax credits and incentives. These programs are often not well known by individuals who could take advantage of them. Owners of residential or commercial properties listed or eligible for the National Register of Historic Place will want to learn about the benefits of tax credits. Our keynote speaker will be David Duvall, Historical Architect of the Indiana Division of Historic Preservation and Archeology. Mr. Duvall’s office is responsible for review and qualification of tax credit applications in Indiana. His presentation will help property owners better understand the requirements and benefits of these programs.

There will also be a separate parallel presentation aimed at (501-c3 recognized) not-for-profit groups and governmental entities interested in applying for Historic Preservation Grants.

The program will also includes a special presentation by Hancock County Historian, Joe Skvarenina on historical perspectives of the Indiana National Rd., and brief overview of the Indiana National Road Association by Joe Frost, Executive Director.

Program cost is $10 for current members of INRA, and $25 for non-members. Anyone paying the non-member price will also receive a 2015 membership to INRA for no additional charge.

Happy Halloween

Happy Halloween from the Indiana National Road Association!

Did you know...the tradition of Halloween is much older than even the old Historic National Road. Halloween can be traced back nearly 2,000 years to the ancient Celtic festival called Samhain. People would wear costumes to ward off ghosts. Later, in the 8th Century, November 1 became known as All Saints’ Day, and October-31 “All Hallow’s Eve, but incorporated many of the traditional Celtic Samhain practices.

Tonight, all along the National Road communities and youngsters will take part in a tradition that spans centuries.

Have fun and be safe!
