STORIES OF THE ROAD

Online—We are experimenting with the 21st Century...that's right we are testing out a new blog!.

“Stories of the Road” debuted this month with a blog post, by Bob Hunt, about George Knox and is ways as a self-made man. So far we have two posts, but there are far more to come.

Our idea behind “Stories of the Road” was simple. Yes, the Historic National Road is significant because of its history, its architecture, and its role in the development of Indiana and the West, but there is so more to it than that. The Road is a collection of communities, homes, families, people, businesses, etc. Each with a story! Thus, “Stories of the Road” was created,

Our goal is to share past and present stories about the people who make the National Road a great place to live. Check it out!

Stay tuned for more Stories!

KNIGHTSTOWN TOYS

Knightstown—There is a new toy store along the National Road! Owned and operated by Kevin and Suzy Zeller, Knightstown Toys & Treasures is a unique toy store for the young and young-at-heart.

The store is situated in the old Texaco filling station nestled on the Northeast corner of the town square. Just one block of the Historic National Road, at 39 N. Washington Street, you will find high quality toys, and a old world atmosphere.

Knightstown Toys & Treasures is a destination that shouldn't be missed.
